History

The Downtown Clermont Community Redevelopment Agency (CRA) was created on May 27, 1997 through the adoption of Resolution No. 950 by the City Council of the City of Clermont, Florida.

While the taxable value of the downtown redevelopment area has continued to decline in recent years, it still remains over $28.7 million above its value at inception ($14.9 million). Due to the downturn in the housing market, it is anticipated that this decline will continue for the next few years, however, planned improvements within the District will continue in an effort to minimize the decline as much as possible. Revenues in excess of $1.7 million have been received to date funding various revitalization projects over the years.

Project Information

The Streetscape project, intended to improve the aesthetics and pedestrian access to the historic downtown area, includes the construction of new sidewalks, landscape islands with native, drought tolerant plant species, period street lights and decorative intersection and cross walk designs. Recent additional features such as the relocation of all overhead power lines underground have been in the design stage. In order to minimize the disruption to local businesses and interruptions in utility services, all the various streetscape improvement projects are being consolidated into one comprehensive construction project scheduled to begin in 2012.

A new program was also introduced in 2010 which allows downtown business owners to apply for grant funds to improve the façade of their businesses. This program has proven very successful and will continue into 2012.

Financial Update

As of September 30, 2010 the CRA Fund had a balance of $1,472,734. Revenues received in 2010 totaled over $293,000. Expenditures in 2010 included providing grant funding to businesses within the downtown district for façade improvements. Additional funds are set aside to continue this program as well as accumulating funds for the comprehensive streetscape project.

The detailed financial information related to the CRA is contained within the Comprehensive Annual Financial Report (CAFR) of the City of Clermont and has been audited by an independent auditor.
